My Helsinki!

A night photograph of a stone building with glowing windows and a cobblestone path. The building is constructed of dark grey stone blocks. Two large, multi-paned windows on the right side are brightly lit from within, casting a warm, yellow glow. The interior of the windows shows some furniture and a model ship. To the left of the windows, a green door is partially visible. The building is partially covered in dark ivy. In the foreground, a cobblestone path leads towards the building. The background is dark, with some green foliage visible on the left. The text 'My Helsinki' is overlaid in the bottom right corner in a white, glowing, cursive font.
